“ We will miss Bro. Gerald. The beautiful songs he wrote will always be treasured memories. He always had a smile on his face. We visited with him a couple weeks before he passed and that smile was still there. We look forward to the time when we will meet again. God Bless you Robin, Jennifer and the Crowl Family. Our love and prayers are with you.

“ Been thinking a lot about when we were kids. I was always your favorite to pick on. No one could make me scream the way you could. The one I remember most is Queen Celeste and King Babar. A children's book about elephants. Since we were both chubby you would call me Queen Celeste and I in turn would call you King Babar to which you would then brag that you were a king and I would say no you're not you don't have a crown. You have that crown now, well earned and deserved. Be good up there. No picking on anyone until I get there. Loved you more than you knew.

Donna Beninati - June 21, 2021 at 09:02 AM

Awww I know Dad felt bad for picking on you when y'all were younger. In fact once when my daughter was being picked on at school I was talking him about it and he expressed how he felt bad for doing those things! This was a beautiful tribute and we love you.

We were Just doing what kids do. He always had a tender heart and a gentle spirit. He was always very kind hearted. if I wanted to borrow one of his toys he always shared and would always play games with me. He was unselfish and had a good heart.
