“ My parents were friends with Mildred back in the early 80's and she would often babysit me and my brother so that my parents would have the night to relax without 3 crazy boys running around...I was recently contacted by Mildred saying she had pictures from those times of my family and I, she sent them to me and I'm very grateful that she did that for me and my family! This year has surely been one to forget and I can only pray the Good Lord has her in his home now and comforting thoughts and memories will remind Mildred's girls, family and friends that she is now in a far better place and she will forever be their guardian Angel... Fly High Mildred..thank you for all the wonderful memories! 🥹💙🙏

Mildred was more than a friend. She was my sister. We may have had the title of being just step sisters because of her daddy marrying my biological mother but we looked beyond the blood relation. Mildred, out of all my sisters, was my only sister. We connected from day one. I will never forget you Mildred. I will always treasure and carry your memories in my heart. Until we meet again sis. I love you, always have, always will.
