“ Terry was special to many people in many different ways. I'm very thankful that for the past 6 years I got to know Terry even better than I already did. Our house is not the same with his passing. I am thankful that Terry assured us that He accepted Christ and was ready to meet Him.

“ My first boyfriend, Terry Dean Henderson, my best childhood friend. 55 years ago trekking through the woods & fields of Luster's Gate hunting, killing hogs at Dove's, & late night joyriding on the backwood moonshine roads. He was a sweetheart, always a gentleman & protector, a real Redneck country boy who had eyes like Conway Twitty, beautiful dimples, and an infectious smile. Ill miss you. Ill always love you.

“ All through the years Terry whenever your name was brought up people would ask me to tell stories only you and me could have lived..I was always tickled to see you around and we would automatically start laughing and reliving the past. We would laugh and say the valley wasn't the same since we grew up and moved on in life. You will always be my brother. Rest in peace my good friend.
